

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, On Saturday the 13th day of May, the "American War Mothers" will be on the streets selling carnations red and white.

Now this band of mothers are not working for self gain, they try to ease in every way the suffering and pain of their boys who came home shattered by bomb, shot and shell who face long days suffering and who never will be well.

Perhaps their own are sleeping in foreign land so far, but they go on working in honor of their Gold Star. They deem it naught but duty to cheer some other mothers boy.

Now all we ask dear public on this one day in May, that you buy and wear a carnation, you can help us in this way to build our hospital fund to send the boys some cheer, we hope it's not too much to ask it's only once a year.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Archie Gubbrud, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim May 13, 1961 as

CARNATION DAY FOR AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 26th day of April in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-One.

Archie Gubbrud
Governor, South Dakota
